Anthony’s contributions were equally invaluable. He took on the challenging logistics of delivering food, setting up canopies, and consistently refilling ice chests to keep everyone hydrated and comfortable. Anthony went above and beyond by heading out in the middle of the night to provide DEF for all emergency equipment in use. He also managed the critical task of gathering radios and batteries, ensuring seamless communication among the volunteers. Additionally, Anthony assisted by transporting volunteers between the scene and the station as needed, further contributing to the smooth operation of our team’s efforts.

Together, Charlene, Jennifer, and Anthony demonstrated exceptional teamwork, reliability, and compassion. Their dedication allowed the volunteers to focus on their vital work without concerns about their essential needs. For these reasons, I believe they embody the spirit of our organization and are most deserving of the “Team of the Quarter Award.”
